students suggested for placement after completing UG course in Women's Studies, better Infrastructure, more time n space to practice in practical subject, due to arrangements of general elections in the campus, they had suffered a lot. The same responses were found for both the diploma courses also.

Analysis:

Students find the course content good. Students find the category of applicability to real life, clarity and relevance of material, extents of efforts required by subjects, extent of syllabus covered in class and benefits derived from the courses very good whereas students show their concerns regarding efforts put in the study by students. Some of the respondents seeked our attention towards enhancing employability of courses; centre to provide a platform as suggested by UGC and University.
